IndustryWeek

U.S. 500

America's Largest Manufacturers

CREATING THE LISTS

IndustryWeek partnered with Mergent Inc. to create the 2018 IW U.S. 500 ranking of the largest publicly held manufacturing companies headquartered in the United States. In late 2016, Mergent was purchased by the London Stock Exchange Group and forms a part of LSEG's Information Services Division, which includes FTSE Russell. Mergent has been collecting and delivering financial information for more than 100 years. IndustryWeek's relationship with Mergent dates back to 1996.

Led by project manager Ricardo Angel, Mergent's global databases were used to identify all publicly held manufacturing firms meeting IW's selection criteria. The actual cutoff for inclusion on this year's IW U.S. 500 list was just under $1.2 billion in revenues.

In addition to the team at Mergent, Erik L. Fine, a Charlotte, N.C.-based information consultant involved in the IW U.S. 500 since its inception, oversaw the analysis and data-collection effort.

Mergent collected the financial data elements directly from reports distributed by the corporations.

THE IW U.S. 500 INCLUDES:

- Manufacturing companies with a majority of their business in a manufacturing industry
- Companies that generated less than 50% of revenues from manufacturing, but more revenue from manufacturing than the lowest-revenue-producing companies on this year's list.
- Oil and gas companies that derive at least 50% of their revenues from the refining of oil and gas products.
- Companies that derive at least 50% of their revenues from the manufacture of mined materials.
